I feel very happy to learn that the Department of Planning is hosting its website 'www.pbplanning.gov.in' with the intent to apprise the people about the status of Punjab economy and implementation of different development schemes and programmes for the welfare of the masses. Exhaustive information on critical economic indicators, schemes and projects included in the Five Year/Annual Plan and guidelines regarding implementation of plan schemes would be available on this Website. I hope this will help strengthen the planning process and achieve the desired objectives.

I wish progress and prosperity to the people of Punjab.
